PLAYING IT SAFE
An SYFA Workshop for Player Protection Officers
Developing and Maintaining Safe Clubs for Young Footballers

As part of the Scottish Youth FA's continued commitment to Player Protection we have now designed a course for SYFA Player Protection Officers. The course has been designed by the SYFA in conjunction with Peter Connolly of Stirling University.

The aim of the Workshop is to ensure that player protection officers understand the roles and responsibilities involved in developing and maintaining safe clubs for young football players.

By the end of workshop all player protection officers will

- Understand the qualities, knowledge and skills required of an SYFA Player Protection Officer
- Be committed to supporting the continuous development of safe clubs in accordance with the SYFA Player Protection Policy
- Know what constitutes a safe football club for young football players
- Be clear about what actions must be taken if there are any concerns about the welfare or safety of any young player, or the conduct of any adult

In order that your club remains at the forefront of this most important of issues please complete and return this form with a £10 course fee to: Hazel Killen, National Player Protection Officer, Scottish Youth FA, Hampden Park, GLASGOW, G42 9BF

Course details and venues will be announced when suitable numbers have applied.
